INDEX

TO

VOLUME XLVI.

Advocates and Juries, 571
A. H.—A letter to a friend on Uncle Tom's Cabin, 237
Ah! how fair the world would seem, 290.
Aiton's Lands of the Messiah, Mahomet, and the Pope, 696
Alabama Man, some account of Mrs. Beecher Stowe and her family, by an, 518
America, Presidential Election for, 347
——— Slavery in, A Letter, on Uncle Tom's Cabin. By A. H., 237; Slavery in the Southern States, by a Carolinian, 476
Ancient History, Niebuhr's Lectures on, 672
Anthony's, Mr., Beech Trees and Ferns —Art and the Royal Academy, 235
Architects and Architecture, 653
Art and the Royal Academy, 228.
Austrian Poets, 213; Vogl, 214; Lenau, 215; Beck, 216; Grillparzer, 217; Seidl, 224

Babylon and Jerusalem, 553
Bear Hunting in India, 373
Beck, Karl—Austrian Poets, 216
Beecher Family, the. Some account of Mrs. Beecher Stowe, 518
Bowen's Mount Athos, Thessaly, and Epirus, 258
Bowring, Dr., Yama and the Disciple. From the Sanskrit, 29
Brace's Hungary in 1851, 248
Britain, the Northmen in, 525
Bull, Mr., a few words to, on his return from the Continent, 585

Carolinian, a, on Slavery in the Southern States, 476
Chalmers, Dr. Thomas, Life and Writings of, 1; ordained minister, 3; his earliest publication, 4; first visit to London, 4; Treatise on the National Resources, 5; parochial labours, 6; his marriage, 7; elected minister of the Tron Church, Glasgow, 7; his fame as a preacher, 8; appointed Professor of Moral Philosophy at St. Andrew's, 9; becomes Professor of Divinity at Edinburgh, 11; supports Catholic emancipation, 11; diary during his visits to London, 12; controversies in the Church of Scotland, 13; the Veto Act, 14; the non-intrusion controversy, 15; free-church movement, 16; his labours in the cause, 17; the evening of his life, 17; his character, 18
Chamfort—Neglected French Authors, 291
Character of Sir John Falstaff, 403
Conger, the—Fish Tattle, 83
Cox, E. W., The Advocate, 571
Coxe's Translation of Hirscher's Sympathies of the Continent, 556

Dactylopterus Volitans — More Fish Tattle, 453
Davis's China during the War and since the Peace, 253
Digby Grand, Autobiography of Captain. Chap. XV. The exchequer failing fast—money unusually 'tight'—luck's all—a friendly autograph—the metropolis of fox-hunting—a Russian diplomatist —'whom to marry'—a sportsman's diary—Cupid versus Diana, 68. Chap. XVI. Manly habits of the English aristocracy—races at Croxton Park—progress of my suit with the Leicestershire heiress—an unexpected change —many a slip, &c., 75. Chap. XVII. The prodigal's return—a former comrade—how some people live—evenings at home—the white hand—an important despatch—gone out of town for his health, 188. Chap. XVIII. A private trial—the respectable witness —ups and downs in the trade—where the shoe pinches — welcome intelligence—set a beggar on horseback—vote by ballot—farewell to the brigade, 196. Chap. XIX. The bold dragoon—renewal of an old acquaintance, and lady's promotion—welcome appointment—the enemy in sight—raising the siege—touch and go—the moonlight ride, 305. Chap. XX. Business in a pleasure boat—boarded and captured—a council of war, and the Israelite's terms—measures make the man—a professional sufferer out of patience—assistance sought too late—the enthusiast's end—'the weary are at rest,' 313. Chap. XXI. A weary walk—'headed again'—loose upon the town—the silver hell—raising the wind—a morning stroll—embarrassments of a tradesman—'A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind'—an old friend—generosity of the danseuse—births, deaths, and marriages, 411. Chap. XXII. The house of mourning—a magnate's funeral—Haverley to the hammer—agremens of Fulham—what's in a name?—a widowed wife—the 'plant' for a sapling—a strong measure—an early departure—'Lady bird! lady bird! fly away home!'—the offices closed—a fancy for the diggings—Tom Spencer in the City, 419. Chap. XXIII. Learning to be respectable—Business versus pleasure—a dinner to the connoisseurs—the jolly general—a walk from Temple-bar—the warrior's retreat—a faithless lady and a sensible friend—Newgate and its gloom—the destiny of a drum-major, 537. Chap. XXIV. The prisoner in his cell—'tis a wise child, &c.—disclosures of paternity—the colonel and the coryphee—meditations amongst the thoroughfares—an unavoidable encounter—the enchantress grown old—the tombstone wreathed with flowers—'cui bono?'—the school for scandal, 544. Chap. XXV. A winter walk—the fortunes of the frail—preparation of a bridegroom—the guard of honour—a wedding breakfast—'On revient toujours,' &c.—the holiness of love, 660. Chap. XXVI. The cage invitingly open—no accounting for tastes—a delicate subject—the revolt of the harem—labour in vain—the inevitable hour—a call of the house—actors and actresses to the footlights—the curtain drops, 666.

Duke of Wellington, the late, 365

Edward Gibbon, 438

Egerton's Winter's Tour in India, 257

Elections, the. See the Government and the Elections.

Emigration. See Gold and Emigration

Empire (the) in France; its probable consequences in Europe, 704

Ethical Doubts concerning Reineke Fuchs, 321

Exhibition of 1851—jury reports, 491

Falstaff, on the Character of Sir John, 403

Familiar Epistles from Ireland, 151; English ignorance of Ireland, 152; the Celtic Exodus, 153; Ireland for the Irish, 154; true cause of Irish misery, 155; greatest happiness of the greatest number, 157; landlords and tenants, 158; an apology for Irish violence, 160

Few Words to Mr. Bull on his Return from the Continent, 585

Fish Tattle—the conger, 83; the muræna, 84; percidæ, the perch, 90; the stinging weaver, 92; the labrax, 93; uranoscopus hemerocætus, 96; mullets and mullomaniacs, 263; fossil fish, 269. More Fish Tattle—Gurnard group—phonetic flying fish, 452; dactylopterus volitans, 453; sea scorpions, 460; sciænidæ, 461; sparidæ, 462

Forsyth's Hortensius, 583

———— History of Trial by Jury, 584

Fortnight in North Wales, 161

Fortune's Journey to the Tea Countries of China, 253

Fossil Fish, dead and alive, 269

France, the Empire in; its probable consequences in Europe, 704

General Assembly of the Kirk, 98; its constitution, 99; proceedings of the Lord High Commissioner, 101; functions of the assembly, 103; relations of the Crown to the kirk, 105

Gibbon, Edward, 438; his early life, 439; his mental characteristics, 441; his personal character and studies, 443; in the militia, 444; his qualifications for a historian, 445; his parliamentary career, 447; his Decline and Fall, 449

Gold and Emigration, 127; geological distribution of gold, 128; natural history of gold, 129; civil history of gold, 130; effects of gold on prices, 133; influence of gold in stimulating emigration, 135; disorganization caused by gold discoveries, 137

Government School of Mines, 47; its educational character, 47; reasons for its formation, 49. Foreign mining schools—Freiberg academy, 49; Paris school of mines, 52. Organization of the London school, 53; probable character of its students, 54; demand for schools of arts and manufactures, 55; Government patronage of geology, 57

Government and the Elections, 112; what is Lord Derby's policy? 113; his equivocations, 114; Mr. Disraeli, 115; contradictory speeches of the Ministers, 116; protracted sitting of Parliament, 117; Irish national education, 118; Maynooth grant, 120; suggestions to electors, 122, Militia Bill, 123; incompetence of the Foreign

Secretary, 124; the Colonial Secretary, 126
Grillparzer, Franz—Austrian Poets, 217
Gurnard Group—More Fish Tattle, 452

Hamilton's Sixteen Months in the Danish Isles, 250
Hanna's Memoirs of Dr. Chalmers, 1
Hardy's Memoirs of Lord Langdale, 173
Hirscher's Sympathies of the Continent, 555
How India is governed, 713
Hypatia; or, New Foes with an Old Face. By the Author of Yeast. Chap. XIII. The bottom of the abyss, 31. Chap. XIV. The rocks of the syrens, 43. Chap. XV. More East Wind, 138. Chap. XVI. Venus and Pallas, 143. Chap. XVII. A stray gleam, 272. Chap. XVIII. The prefect tested, 277. Chap. XIX. Jews against Christians, 386. Chap. XX. She stoops to conquer, 392. Chap. XXI. The squire bishop, 503. Chap. XXII. Pandemonium, 687

Iceland in the year One Thousand, 643
India, Bear Hunting in, 373
India—how it is governed, 713; distribution of patronage, 714; duties of the court of directors, 716; secret committee, 717; board of control, 718; administration of government in India, 719; English ignorance of Indian subjects, 720; argument in favour of the company's government, 723; what has the company done for India? 727
Ionian Islands and their Government, 593; formation of the septinsular republic, 594; changes of government between 1797 and 1803, 595; value of the islands as national property, 596; establishment of the republic, 597; Sir T. Maitland's government, 598; constitutional charter, 599; Sir F. Adam, 601; Lord Nugent, 602; Sir Howard Douglas, 603; Lord Seaton, 604; Mr. Ward, 605; his differences with the assembly, 607
Ireland. See Familiar Epistles from Ireland

Juries and Advocates, 571
Jury Reports of Exhibition of 1851, 491

Kirk of Scotland. See General Assembly of the Kirk

Labourer's Hymn, 410
Labrax, the—Fish Tattle, 93
Laing's Social and Political State of Denmark, 250
Lands of the Messiah, Mahomet, and the Pope, 696
Langdale, Lord, Memoirs of, 173
Lenau, Austrian Poets, 222
Life and Letters of Niebuhr, 58

Mackinnon's Atlantic and Transatlantic Sketches, 259
Magic Chessmen, the, 711
Millais', Mr. Pictures—Art and the Royal Academy, 234
Mines. See Government School of Mines
More Fish Tattle, 452
Mullets and Mullomaniacs, 263
Mundy's Our Antipodes, 261
Muræna, the—Fish Tattle, 84
Musical Season, the, 284

Neglected French Authors—Chamfort, 291
New Curiosities of Literature. By the Right Hon. B. Disraeli. With Notes and Illustrations, 637
New Novels—Mr. Thackeray's Esmond, 622; Mr. Savage's Reuben Medlicott, 633.
New Orphan-House at Ashley-Down, Bristol, 341
New Parliament, Personnel of the, 351
New Reformation, the, 553
Niebuhr, Barthold G., Life and Letters of, 58; opinion of the work, 58; chief events of his life, 59; his character, 60; political career, 61; death of his wife, 62; his residence as professor at Bonn, 63; his intellectual character, 68; comparison of Niebuhr and Dr. Arnold, 67
——— Ancient History, 672; what is ancient history? 673; Assyrian empire, 675; character of Xenophon, 676; history of Greece, 677; Athens—its literature and art, 680; plague at Athens, 681; character of Alexander, 682; the Sophists, 685; character of the translations, 686
Northmen in Britain, the, 525
North Wales, a Fortnight in, 161

Orphan-House at Ashley-Down, Bristol, the new, 341
Osborn's Arctic Journal, 258

Parliament, Personnel of the New, 351
Percidæ, the Perch—Fish Tattle, 90
Personnel of the New Parliament, 351
Phonetic and Flying Fish—More Fish Tattle, 452
Pre-Raphaelitism, 233
Presidential Election for America, 347
Price's Patent Candle Company, the Training Schools of, 106
Prospero, 636

Recent Travels, 245; Brace's Hungary in 1851, 248; Laing's Denmark, 250; Hamilton's Danish Isles, 250; Fortune's Journey to China, 253; Davis's China, 253; Egerton's Tour in India, 257; Richardson's Arctic Expedition, 257; Osborn's Arctic Journal, 258; Bowen's Mount Athos, 258; Mackinnon's Atlantic Sketches, 259; Shortland's New Zealand, 261; Mundy's Our Antipodes, 261

Reformation, the New, 553
Reineke Fuchs, Ethical Doubts Concerning, 321
Reports of Jury of Exhibition of 1851, 491
Richardson's Arctic Searching Expedition, 257
Rome under the Pope and the Republic, Sketches of. By an Eye-Witness. Chap. I. Preliminary, 19; Chap. II. The election, 21. Chap. III. The amnesty. Chap. IV. 'Progredista' and 'Oscurantisto,' 24. Chap. V. The people—the civic guard—the press, 26. Chap. VI. The early days of Pius IX.—the audiences—the municipality, 203. Chap. VII. 'Il Posesso,' 207. Chap. VIII. The year 1847—Cicerocchio — Ventura — Azeglio — the Pope's sermon—the clubs, 209. Chap. IX. The year of Revolutions, 331. Chap. X. The crusade—the treachery of the Italian princes—Mamiani's Ministry, 336. Chap. XI. Murder of Count Rossi, 427. Chap. XII. Attack on the Quirinal, 432. Chap. XIII. Flight of the Pope—proclamation of the Republic, 437. Chap. XIV. Republican reforms—the Inquisition, 559. Chap. XV. Preparations for the French—Garibaldi—burning of the Cardinal's carriages, 563. Chap. XVI. French Diplomacy—Defeat of Oudinot—Skirmish at Velletri—the Coliseum—conclusion, 567
Royal Academy, Art and the, 228
Russell, Lord John, 609. First entering Parliament, 610; his early efforts at Reform, 811; letter to the electors of Stroud, 612; leader of the House of Commons, 616; Prime Minister, 619.

Savage's Reuben Medlicott, 633.
Sciænidæ—More Fish Tattle, 461
Sea Scorpions—More Fish Tattle, 460
Seidl, J. G. Austrian Poets, 224
Shortland's Southern Districts of New Zealand, 261
Sir Hubert's Hole. A Ballad, 464
Sketches of Rome under the Pope and the Republic. See Rome.
Slavery in America—On Uncle Tom's Cabin. By A. H., 237; Slavery in the Southern States. By a Carolinian, 476
Some Account of Mrs. Beecher Stowe and her Family, 518
Sparidæ—More Fish Tattle, 462
Stinging Weaver, the—Fish Tattle, 92
Story of Gunnar and his Sons—Iceland in the Year One Thousand, 644
Stowe, Some Account of Mrs. Beecher, and her Family. By an Alabama Man, 518

Tea-Table Literature. The Works of Martin Farquhar Tupper, 466
Thackeray's Esmond, 623
Training Schools of Price's Patent Candle Company, 106
Tupper's, Martin Farquhar, Works, 466

Uncle Tom's Cabin, a Letter on, by A. H., 237. See Slavery in Southern States, by Carolinian, 476; some account of Mrs. Beecher Stowe, 518
Uranoscopus Hemerocætus—Fish Tattle, 96

Vogl, Dr. J.—Austrian Poets, 214

Wellington, the Duke of, 365; his character, 366; his unwavering sense of duty, 367; his declarations against reform considered, 369; behaviour of the Irish towards him, 370; his position in history, 371
Worsaae's Primeval Antiquities of Denmark, 525
——— Danes and Norwegians in England, 526

Yama and the Disciple. Translated from the Sanskrit. By Dr. Bowring, 29

END OF VOL. XLVI.

Savill and Edwards, Printers, 4, Chandos-street, Covent-garden.